

Master of Science in Education Curriculum & Instruction

GET STARTED TODAY!

For information,
contact:

DR. JUDITH HANKES

Graduate Program
Coordinator, Curriculum and Instruction

College of Education and Human Services

University of Wisconsin-
Oshkosh

800 Algoma Boulevard
Oshkosh, WI 54901

(920) 424-7254

Email: hankes@uwosh.edu

OR

STUDENT SERVICES

University of Wisconsin-
Sheboygan

One University Drive
Sheboygan, WI 53081

(920) 459-6633

Email: ronald.wood@uwc.edu

UW OSHKOSH/UW-SHEBOYGAN COLLABORATIVE DEGREE PROGRAM

(Emphasis: Differentiated Instruction)

What we offer:

- Program designed for today's busy working teacher who wishes to obtain a graduate degree
- Friday evening, Saturday classes only (four weekends per semester)
- Special tuition rate for UW-Sheboygan participants
- Combination of face-to-face learning at UW-Sheboygan and online learning
- Six credits earned per semester
- Cohort of students
- 2-year program duration, 30 credits
- Program provided by the UW Oshkosh College of Education and Human Services and accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE)
- Elements of the "skillful practitioner," "lifelong learner," "change agent" and "reflective professional" woven into coursework
- Completion of coursework allows participants to achieve advanced licensure through PI34
- Classes offered year-round; may enter program at any time

What you get:

- Expertise in implementation of differentiated instruction
- Learning community approach with a group of teachers completing the program together
- Close working relationships with faculty and advisors
- Flexible hybrid model of instruction with weekend classes and online coursework
- Classes offered on the nearby UW-Sheboygan campus and online via your home or work computer

SHEBOYGAN

A Campus of the University of Wisconsin Colleges